The main building of the Hotel was constructed in 1829 as a school for European children in the Nilgiris. As in the case of the building of St. Stephens Church the massive beams came from Tipu Sultan's Palace at Srirangapattanam. These beams were dragged all the way from Srirangapattanam up the Singhur Ghat by Elephants.

From simple to intricate, we have a wide range of offerings to suit every taste, along with beverages to complement every flavor, you are served with a smile for a unique and memorable dining experience.

The vintage newspaper style menu offers Western, Asian, Comfort Food, Cuisines from various parts of India such as North-West Frontier Cuisine, Tamil Nadu, Badaga, Anglo Indian and much more.

Among all European traders Nilgiris saw, British stayed the longest; their influence was naturally even deeper. When it came to food, we managed to strike a good barter too. They got us breads and we introduced them to an array of spices. The Anglo-Indian cuisine, thus, became a mishmash of both the worlds and it is the delicious result of the British Raj in India. Indian Khansamas (cooks) took aspects of British cuisine and amalgamated them with Indian methods of cooking, spices, ingredients to create this delectable fare.

Savoy High Tea

High Tea is a great British tradition that moved along with British Officers to the beautiful town of Ootacamund in 19th Century, in a graceful and doting manner Ooty embraced this culture and it has become inseparable part of those who love celebrating their lives as a native here.

At Savoy there is just something so appealing about the signature High Tea. Old-fashioned tableware, pretty local delicacies, sweet treats, warm smile of the serving butler add them to an afternoon of good company on a beautiful blue sky day and you have all the ingredients for the perfect occasion.

Mixology is a colourful combination of exceptional taste, creative energy and suave flair of mixing different ingredients to produce harmony on the palate.

Add home grown Nilgiris Tea, with its limitless variety, to the equation and it takes this craft to a different level altogether.

It is the art of respectfully combining nature's most indulgent beverage, with other ingredients to produce Tea inspired Cocktails, Mocktails.

Gin & Tonic Invention

The midday or evening drink of Gin and Tonic got invented in Ooty by British when they made this botanical town their abode. It is said that in effort to subdue the intensely bitter flavor of cinchona bark extract, British Soldiers stationed in India mixed the quinine extract with the sugar, water, lime and their Gin “ration” thereby invented the cocktail today known as the Gin and Tonic. The British had a purpose in taking that drink other than alcoholic aspect. The ‘tonic’ is quinine water prevents/cures malaria and is health-wise beneficial in several ways.

It is not too much of a stretch to say that the gin and tonic was as essential a weapon for the British Empire as the Gatling gun. No less an authority on imperial power than Winston Churchill once declared, “The gin and tonic have saved more Englishmen’s lives, and minds, than all the doctors in the Empire.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH

A breathtaking architectural marvel built in the colonial times. The structure dates back to 1829 and was built by the British government. The date of the commencement of construction was cleverly chosen to coincide with the birthday of King George IV.

The fabulous pale-yellow building of the St Stephen's Church bears testimony to the geniuses of British architecture that existed during those times. This grandeur is also reflected in the painting of 'The Last Supper' that can be found in the Church.

Various attractions that appeal to visitors and tourists in the church include pretty stained glass windows that depict a myriad of different scenes, such as Mother Mary holding Jesus in her arms.

DOLPHIN'S NOSE

Dolphin's Nose is essentially a huge rock that resembles the nose of a dolphin. There are ravines on either side of Dolphin's Nose, including St. Catherine Falls and Coonor stream meeting the Kotagiri stream. These water bodies are tributaries of the Bhavani River.

On a bright sunny day, visitors can get a glimpse of St. Catherine Falls from the top of Dolphin's Nose. Dolphin's Nose is ideal for outdoor games, like boating and horse riding, as well as picnics.

30 KM / 75 minutes from SAVOY

AVALANCHE LAKE

Avalanche Lake was formed naturally in the year 1823 due to a massive landslide and therefore is named as Avalanche Lake. Small waterfalls falling down from the encircling mountains creates a picture perfect ambience. The surrounding forests are so dense that even sunlight cannot penetrate through them. The lake is surrounded by a rolling landscape with blooming flowers like Magnolias, Orchids and Rhododendrons
