Bengal was once home to a French colony, hosting populations of Portuguese, Dutch, British, Chinese and Mughal descendants. The East India Room offers a stylized interpretation of the “Colonial Companion,” an Indian dining experience that developed during the British Raj in India. The royal cuisine of nawabs and the delicacies of undivided Bengal have also amalgamated over the centuries to form a truly rich cuisine with amazing earthy flavours from Murshidabad and Bangladesh. The recipes have been inspired from the kitchens of erstwhile Zamindars and the influence of British culture.

As per the guidelines issued by Food Safety & Standards Authority of India (FSSAI), an average active adult requires 2000 kcals of energy per day. However, the actual calories needed may vary per person.
